Adams. The award was presented at the network's recent annual conference, held during LeadingRE Conference Week, which attracted an audience of more than 2,000 real estate professionals from more than 20 countries.

and to showcase its listing inventory. The award-winning entries were chosen based on creativity, quality and overall presentation and effectiveness.

Design studio recognized for architectural work

Bluegreen, a design studio in Aspen, has announced that two of its projects were selected as finalists and one project received special mention from the 2015 Architizer A+ Awards, a global architectural award program with more than 90 categories and more than 300 judges.

Reiling Dredge Historic Park Master Plan was selected as a finalist for its capacity to celebrate history and establish a framework for ecologically sound interpretation, according to a company statement. Representative of Colorado's history of mineral excavation and disturbance to the regional landscape, the Reiling Dredge overturned an existing creek bed and adjacent land in its search for wealth. Bluegreen worked with the community and designed a comprehensive plan that allows the story of the site to subtly unfold within the context of an evolving landscape, the company said.

Lines on Castle Creek, a home that overlooks the Conundrum Valley, was selected as a finalist for its restrained design moves that enable ecological resilience through lines and materials, native plants and the inclusion of intimate outdoor rooms to create a holistic site where the landscape and the home are connected, according to the company.

Gratia, a technologically advanced residential project, was awarded special mention for a private garden.

DOG OF THE WEEK

Doogie

This senior fella is guessed to be about 12 years old. He is an awesome little guy, very happy and friendly. We are guessing him to be a terrier mix of some sort, maybe with some Chihuahua. He weighs just under 20 pounds. He is so lovable and typical to little dogs, has a big personality. He LOVES people and gets along extremely well with other dogs. This guy even smiles in his sleep! He is healthy, neutered, current on his vaccinations, had a dental and is micro chipped. If you have room in your heart for a best friend, he would love to fill the role! Just go to www.luckydayrescue.org and then call Kelley on 970-379-4606.
